1. In the middle of 1952, only two semi-underground wooden buildings, each about 8 x 15 meters, were available at Kenyeri (P 48/Y 00) airfield. These low wooden buildings were allegedly guarded by a Hungarian civilian who was assigned by the Soviets. From the fall of 1952 and March 1953, Soviet personnel, including many officers, repeatedly visited Voenseck (P 48/Y 10), coming from Kenyeri airfield. Workers of the state forest administration, who resided in Voenseck, were employed for uprooting work in the woods on the eastern edge of the airfield. These workers said that Soviet soldiers were stationed at the field, that the Soviets did leveling work, and that the airfield was to be provided with a concrete runway and extended as far as Papoz (P 48/Y 01).

2. Between 25 November 1952 and 30 March 1953, the construction enterprise of the Gyoe (P 48/Y 44) - Sopron (P 48/X 63) County was charged with repair and reconstruction work on air raid shelters in nationalized buildings in Sopron. The work included reinforcing of the ceilings with reinforced concrete poles, establishment of emergency exits, laying of tiles on the floors of the air raid shelters, and concreting of door and window frames.
